

CITIZENS' BODY SEEKS HOME RULE AND VOTE

Brightwood Park Association Reiterates Its Stand for Self-Government Here.

Humorous View Taken of "Rule 45" Affecting Employment of Married Teachers in the Schools.

Local self-government, home rule and the right of suffrage, a slogan of the Brightwood Park Citizens' Association since its organization in 1912, were reiterated in resolutions adopted at a meeting of the organization at Van Horn Hall last evening. They were introduced by the president, Homer Smith, only one vote being cast in opposition. The member who spoke against the resolution, Mr. Wilson, contended that $2,000,000, the contribution of the government to local expenses, was a high price to pay for the franchise. As this was the quid pro quo for the sacrifice of the franchise, as he understood it, he was concerned of the demand for the restoration of the vote would lose this contribution and increase taxes.

President Smith, responding, expressed the view that residents of the District of Columbia are subjects and not citizens of the United States, and that many residents are willing subjects. And for fear of a few dollars, they are willing to sell their right to vote. The vote was six to one in favor of the resolution.

The resolution as adopted, besides reiterating the principles, instructed all delegates appointed to represent the organization to represent it in central bodies "to faithfully and earnestly maintain this position" when speaking for and representing the Brightwood Park Citizens' Association.

Humor Found in Resolution.

A back-hand slap at the feminist movement, in endorsement of its generous impulse to establish the woman as breadwinner and relieve the man of responsibility for the family upkeep, applied to the mother-teacher problem, was the subject of another resolution considered and acted upon. William McK. Clayton offered the resolution.

The resolution proposed the repeal of "Rule 45" by the board of education, and the adoption of two substitute rules: First, that the salary of every woman teacher who marries shall at once be doubled, so that she can adequately and properly support and maintain a husband and provide him a home suitable to his station in life; second, that every unmarried woman teacher who, after the adoption of the first rule, shall within five years' continuous service, take advantage of its provisions, shall be automatically dropped from the roll and her place filled forthwith by a married male teacher who can show to the satisfaction of the board that his wife is unable to support him or provide a home for himself and his children.

The meeting instructed the secretary to call to account the street railway Commissioners for failure to keep a promise to grade and sod the area about the schoolhouse in Brightwood; the chairman of the committee on streets also was directed to get busy and see where the hitch was and to have it fixed up. It was regarded as unlikely that the Commissioners would consent to the erection of a fence to keep out stray horses and cattle.

Want Space for Playground.

The meeting authorized Mr. Ayres to select a committee to wait upon the owners of the property in the section bounded by Kennedy, Longfellow and 9th streets and Georgia avenue, and to persuade them to permit it to be used as a playground for children and to have it cleaned up. The chair was authorized to appoint a committee to solicit subscriptions from citizens of Brightwood Park, at large, for funds as a contribution from the organization to the Federated Citizens' Association in preparing the case of the District of Columbia before the joint committee of Congress designated to investigate the fiscal relations of the District of Columbia with the government.

An expectancy that the street railway will take means to sprinkle the roadway between its tracks to allay the dust nuisance was noted by the chairman of the committee on sanitation.

The suggestion was made that an appeal to the public by the commission might result in compelling the railway to live up to its franchise in the matter of paving its share of Georgia avenue on each side of its tracks, but no action was proposed or taken in this direction.

The meeting also expressed approval of the action of the Federated Citizens' Association in appointing a committee to collect facts and figures for presentation of the case of the citizens of the District of Columbia before the joint committee of Congress designated to investigate the fiscal relations between the federal government and the District of Columbia.

HORSE SHOW ENTRIES BREAK ALL RECORDS

Number of Trophies Also Largest in History of Washington's Annual Event.

Final preparations for Washington's annual horse show, which begins a week from Saturday, were begun today. The entry list closed last night and the job of classifying the nominations will keep the management busy several days. It is the largest entry list in the history of the show, something like 1,000 nominations having been made for the eighty-odd classes scheduled. So extensively have the classes filled that it is anticipated there may be some difficulty in crowding them into the five-day program arranged.

Record Number of Trophies.

Not only is the entry list the largest on record, but the number of trophies to be presented also is the largest in the history of the show. The management today announced that H. T. Wheeler, proprietor of the St. James Hotel, had offered a cup for the winner of the chargers class. Sidney West will donate a hunting coat to the winner of one of the hunting classes. The trophies will be on display next week in the New Willard Hotel. The hotel management is planning special decorations for "Peacock Alley" during horse show week.

Officials of the show expect the entries of Miss Ella F. Ivers of New Bedford, Mass., to make a strong bid for honors in the harness event. Miss Ivers has just imported a chestnut pair, full brother and sister, sired by the famous Polonus, which will be shown for the first time in this country. They are 15½ hands high. Miss Ivers also will exhibit her American hackney pair, Woodbine side, Honeyuside. See light, a bay trotting-bred horse; Forget-me-not, a small hackney; and Lancelot, a thoroughbred saddle horse.

Along the coast of France seaweed has been used extensively as fertilizer. The principal fertilizing ingredient of the weed is potash.

Broken Sizes and a Special Purchase Make Extra Good Values in DRESSES

At $12.95

The special purchase consists of one particular model, made up of an extra fine quality of taffeta, in different shades. A very pleasing model in new Russian tunic effect, simulated with ornate collar and cuffs. The taffeta is the same as in many of our taffeta dresses selling at $25.00. We bought a mill's short lengths and had them made up after this one style. Colors are navy, Belgian blue and black. All sizes up to 46 in this special model.

In addition there are numerous other styles of dresses in crepe de chine, etc., but not all sizes in all styles in these.

Many of these dresses were taken from our regular $19.75 lines. Dress Store—2d Floor.
